RUSSIAN QUAKERS GO TO CANADA. Tolstoi's Friends Here Don't Think He Will

Get Into Trouble Over Them. The Doukhobortsi, the Russian sect of spirit wreatiers, whose belief, habits and history were outlined in The Sun a few weeks ago, and who it was then supposed by their fri ends here and in England were coming to the United States, are to become residents of Canada instead. The particular reason that the spirit wrestlers are obnoxious to the Russian Government is not so much their heterodoxy as their refusal to perform any part of the milltary service that involves bearing arms. They refuse absolutely to take up arms against their fellow men, believing it wrong, and they have in times past suffered all sorts of torture rather than submit. The sympathy of Count Leo Tolston for them in their observance of the doctrine of non-resistance is easily understood, and it was chiefly through his efforts that the Czar gave the Doukhobortsi permission to leave the realm. A committee of their friends in England took up the work of providing means for them—the Doukhoports; are all peasants—to take advantage of the Emperor's permission. and enlisted the interest of some American friends of Count Tolstoi, including William Dean Howells and Ernest H. Crosby of this deiphia. These men and their associates on the American committee announced their readiness to accent subscriptions in behalf of the enterprise. Mr. Crosby had some correspondence with a Texas railroad and with the Commissioner of the Land Office at Washington upon the contemplated immisration, but meanwhile the Agent-General of Canada at London offered so much better terms to induce the Russian soil tillers to settle in the Canadian Northwest that his proposition was accepted, and the English committee, aided by a committee of Quaskers in Philadelphia, provided the necessary means for the migration. Doukhobortsi to the number of about 2,900 shipped for Canada under the general care of Count Tolstoi's son Serge.

A cable despatch in the Erwing Inst yesterday spoke of Count Serge Tolstoi 'sailing this week." Mr. Crosby said that his information was that the younger Tolstoi and his charge reached Canada some few weeks ago and were already in Manitoba, somewhere along the Assiniboine. Those of the Doukhobortsi who have been for some time in Cypris are still there, although they are not eatisfied there because of the poor soil and their ill health.

It has been reported resently that Count delphia. These men and their associates on isfied there because of the poor soil and their ill heaith.

It has been reported recently that Count Leo Tolstol was to be banished from Russia because of his advocacy of the project to get the Doukhobortsi out of that country. It does not seem probable that such an act would follow so soon upon the Czar's disarmament proposal, barticularly as the Czar himself granted this appeal of the most notable apostle of peace in his realm, even if the Count's success did displease the Holy Synod. Mr. Crosby pointed out yesterday that almost every book written by Tolstoi criticised the Government, yet none of them had caused his banishment. Mr. Crosby said that in 1834, when he visited the Count, one of the Count's daughters remarked that for a short time after the publication of each new book the family anticipated the possibility of expulsion from the country, but, as the world knows, without the fear being realized.

NUNCIO TO THE PHILIPPINES.

A Rumor That Archbishop Keane Is to Represent Rome in the Islands.

Rumors from Rome are to the effect that Archbishop Keane, formerly rector of the Catholic University at Washington, has been selected by the Pope to be the Papal Nuncio to the Philippines. Since his residence in Rome Mgr. Keane has been high in the councils of the Church, his especial mission being to look the Church, his especial mission being to look after the interests of the Church in America. That he is in unusual favor with Pope Leo XIII. is shown by the following extract from a letter just received:

"Alone among the Archbishops resident in the curia, Mgr. keane, Archbishops of Damascus, snicys the favor of regular bi-annual audiences with his Hollness the Pope. His Grace had one recently. It was most affectionate. The Pope, treating his Grace with particular affection, said that he had heard great praise of his work of preaching in Rome, emphasized its importance and, while blessing him in particular, blessed his hearern also." of preaching in Rome, emphasized tance and, while blessing him in particular, blessed his hearers also.

It is supposed by his friends here that Archibahor heane will accept the office of Papal Nuncio to the Philippines, in case he has been chosen for the place, although it will involve a sacrifice on his part, for the post is not looked upon as one to be desired. It was announced several weeks ago that Archibishor Ireland had been named for the place, but the truth of the rumor was emphatically denied.

Catholic Home Bureau for Dependent

Children. ALEANY, Jan. 7 .- Application has been made to the State Board of Charities for approval of the incorporation of the "Catholic Home Bureau for Dependent Children," whose objects are to place destitute, dependent or neglected are to place destitute, dependent or neglected children in family homes in accordance with the New York State laws, and for that purpose to receive such children by surrender, commitment, or otherwise, and to do such other work as may tend to improve the condition of such children. The principal office of the corporation is to be in New York city. Archishop fortigan has sent a letter of approval, which is strached to the papers, in which he says that the project of establishing this society impresses himsfavorably and seems likely to accomplish good results.

Raby Clothes Safe to Wear.

It is a well known fact that many garments offered for sale at low prices, and sometimes even the better grades, are manufactured in tenements or other unwholesome places, under conditions that make it hazardous to wear them, especially for infants and small children.

We cannot tell where these goods are to be found, but we can tell you about the other kind-made in light clean workrooms, where the division of labor among skilled operators, working with modern machinery, and economy in the use of materials (only possible where large quantities are made) enables us to offer goods like the following:

anished with dainty insertion and 62c. from the neck, slee-

Infants' Long Slips, fine soft finished nainsook; cluster tucks, and hand feather stitching form the dainty joke; neck and sleeves neatly trimmed with ruffle of fine 72C. embroidery.

PERJURY IN DIVORCE CASE.

Justice Nash Will Give Mrs. Hands No Alimony and Suggests Prosecution. The motion of Elizabeth W. Hands for aliony in the action brought against her by Peter Hands, who, in tours around the world. disposed of the large amount of money he in-herited, has been denied by Justice Nash of the Supreme Court. Hands asks for an absolute

Supreme Court. Hands asks for an absolute divorce on allegations of his wife's adultery with Herbert Coones, who has lived with her for several years and who, she says, is a boarder. She has four children of whom she says Hands is the father, but he says that the two youngest are children of Coones. The public record of the birth of a child on Oct. 3 last gave Herbert Coones as the father. In denying her motion Justice Nash raid:

"The evidence that the defendant had a child born to her on Oct. 3 last of which Coones is the father is so overwhelming that the fact would het only be so found upon the evidence, but it is sufficient to convict both the defendant and Coones of herjury in making denial of their adultery under oath."

The Tissot Pictures in Brooklyn. The Tissot pictures illustrating the life of Christ were put on exhibition yesterday at 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, by the Brooklyn montague street, Brooklyn, by the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences in conjunction with the Brooklyn Art Association. The exhi-bition will be closed on the evening of Friday, Jan 13. It will open at 8 in the morning and at 7:30 in the evening, except to-day, when it will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

The total registration of students at Colum bis University, not including those at Barnard or the Teachers' College, has grown from 2,090 last year to 2,156 this year. Including the two colleges just mentioned, each a distinct part of the university, there are 3,776 students at Columbia. Of these 1,250 attend the Teachers' College. The figures show that the college proper and the School of Applied Science are the only departments of the university that have grown. The former has jumped from 326 to 3-si students. The latter now has 450 students as opposed to 420 last year. The Law School has dropped from a total of 366 last year to 348 at present. The College of Physicians and Surgeons has fallen from 737 to 702. his University, not including those at Barnard
